

Greetings Pathways,

The next session in our Racism and Social Injustice Learning Series: "Microaggressions and Bias" is scheduled for Thursday, October 1st. Kenya Bradley, California Peer Lead and Ronica Patel, Illinois State Director will serve as presenters.

If you have a question that you would like to share with our presenters prior to the session, please email Questions: Microaggressions and Bias .

Microaggressions and Bias

These conversations are essential to affect change

Registration Details: "Microaggressions and Bias"

October 1st, 12pm EST/11am CST/9am PST

Click to Register

Please note: registration will close 2hrs prior to the webinar. If you have questions, please email learning@pathways.com .

Areas Covered

Why This Topic Matters

People frequently experience microaggressions, that it is a continuing reality in their day-to-day interactions.

How This Topic Affects You and Others

You don't have to be of a certain group to understand that something is unjust. It's really about learning how to be empathetic to people.

What You Can Do About This

It's important to acknowledge that no one is going to learn everything in one conversation overnight.

Previous session recordings are available as part of our on-demand library:

- Leading Your Teams (Supervisors Only) Click to Enroll
- Supporting Changes Click to Enroll
- Understanding Collective Trauma Click to Enroll
- Racism and Social Injustice Introductory Webinar Click to Enroll

A few employee testimonials:

"Very professional and well done. Thank you, these trainings are timely and I'm grateful for them. They've opened my eyes to race relations and social injustice. Keep them coming."

"I think that the webinar was informative."

"Great webinar."

"I appreciate the information concerning Employee Assisted Program."